

Sharon Zalewski

Sharon serves as the Executive Director of the Regional Primary Care Coalition (RPCC). RPCC is a learning community composed of primary care associations and providers, local funders and community-based organizations convened for the purpose of strengthening health care services and advancing health equity throughout the national capital region. With 30 years of community health care experience, Sharon has held leadership positions in a number of organizations focusing the planning, development and implement of health services for underserved communities in the District of Columbia and Montgomery County.

Previously Sharon served as the Vice President of the Primary Care Coalition of Montgomery County, the Executive Director of the Washington Free Clinic, the Housing Director at the DC Care Consortium and as the AIDS Services Director for DC's Health Care for the Homeless Program. She has been actively engaged in partnerships focused on population health including Healthy Montgomery, the District of Columbia Primary Care Association, Ryan White Title I Planning Council and the HIV Prevention Planning Committee.